1. Welcome to the Coalevo Project!

Coalevo is a non-profit project that pursues the creation of a community communication platform based on Internet technologies, and distribution to the public at no charge. It was initiated and is maintained by the Verein zur Förderung der Internetkommunikation \(VFI\). Trying to learn from the best, we have adapted the community development model and philosophy of The Apache Software Foundation \(ASF\) which encourages a collaborative, consensus-based development process under the Apache v2.0 software license.

Coalevo has a modular architecture and is therefore organized into various subprojects.

2. Relevant Workspaces

We have an excellent online developer collaboration tool that provides workspaces for eventual discussions and developer interaction. The following list presents relevant existing workspaces within the development space.

- Proposals
- Conceptual Design
- Technology Playground
- Project Spaces

Additionally there are developer blogs that should help the community to stay in touch and externals to follow what is happening inside our community.

3. Test-drive for KaraNet Users

We have a test-drive opportunity for active KaraNet users.

```
ssh -2 -p 6666 test.coalevo.net

If it doesn't work, then you may try:

```
ssh bbsnew@karanet.at
